Participant Commitment

To graduate from Leadership Scott County, the class member is required to attend orientation, the two-day overnight retreat, all full-day sessions and participate in a community service project decided upon by the class and separate from class day sessions. Although emergencies do arise, a participant will not graduate if they fail to meet any of the requirements. Because of this time commitment, each participant must have full support of his/her employer/sponsor (if applicable).

I understand the time commitment this program requires. I will be able to attend orientation, the overnight class retreat, and all full-day sessions. I will be actively involved in the community service project outside of class sessions.

Attendance Policy

Leadership Scott County requires a rigorous attendance commitment.

Attendance Standards: There is honor and privilege being selected for Leadership Scott County and with that comes the responsibility to be on time and to participate fully.

Classes begin promptly at 9:00 a.m. and will conclude at 5:00 p.m. Class members must attend all sessions.

Attendance at the August 2024 overnight retreat is mandatory to develop unity among the group from the onset of the program. Absence from the Retreat will result in the class member not being able to participate in the Leadership Scott County program.

Excused Absences: There are times when an unforeseen situation or circumstance occurs over which one has no control. In such cases, excusing absences will be left to the discretion of the Leadership Scott County, Inc. Board of Directors.

Reporting Absences: If you must be absent for an entire day, you are expected to email laura@gtown.org regarding your absence as soon as possible to assist with scheduling and planning. Absences need to be reported by email.

Notification: Class members who are absent for one full class day will be notified that an additional absence will jeopardize their ability to graduate. A letter may be mailed to both the class member and employer/sponsor informing them of the dates of absence(s) and whether graduation is at risk.

Truly consider the requirements of participation before making a commitment because if you are unavailable to attend every session and unable to make the necessary time commitment, it may not be in your best interest to apply for Leadership Scott County at this time.

Your signature on this Attendance Policy document indicates clear understanding and expectations.
